HORSBURGH & SCOTT CO.

Horsburgh & Scott Company affirmed their commitment to the Greater Cleveland area through reinvestment in its Cleveland operations. Over $26 million has been invested in new equipment and the fast-paced implementation of an ISO certified quality management system.

The new equipment has given Horsburgh & Scott the ability to reduce gear cutting production time from 30 hours to 26 minutes. The time savings equates to lower costs which allows the company to compete globally.

The company's investment in establishing a culture and expectation of quality is another step forward toward the long-term growth of the business. ISO certification has had a positive impact on Horsburgh & Scott's entry into the wind turbine supply chain. Taking part in this rapidly-growing market sector has led to job retention and job creation.

Reinvestment in equipment and training, leading to job retention and creation helps to ensure long-term profitability at Horsburgh & Scott's Cleveland plant for years to come.

WIRE-Net

Where Manufacturing Matters

Since 1990, WIRE-Net has recognized companies and individuals who demonstrate—through their extraordinary efforts—a commitment to WIRE-Net's mission and values. Mission Builder Award winners are companies that exemplify our mission, which is to strengthen manufacturing to create healthy communities and fuel economic growth.
